No. 16-60118

EPA'S FOURTEENTH STATUS REPORT ON REMAND

On March 22, 2017, the Court entered an Order in which it granted EPA's motion for a partial voluntary remand and remanded the final rule challenged in these cases to EPA. On April 6, 2017, EPA filed its First Status Report on Remand. On April 7, 2017, the Court granted EPA's unopposed motion to modify the time intervals for status reports on remand to 60 days. EPA now respectfully submits this Fourteenth Status Report on Remand.

1. These cases concern EPA's final action under the Clean Air Act ("CAA"), 42 U.S.C. §§ 7401-7671q, titled: "Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans; Texas and Oklahoma; Regional Haze State Implementation Plans; Interstate Visibility Transport State Implementation Plan to Address Pollution Affecting Visibility and Regional Haze; Federal Implementation Plan for Regional Haze" (hereinafter the "Final Rule"). The Final Rule was published at 81 Fed. Reg. 296 (Jan. 5, 2016).

2. As EPA explained in its previous status reports, the initial significant action EPA will take on remand is to publish a notice of proposed rulemaking proposing to reconsider certain aspects of the Final Rule regarding the CAA's reasonable progress requirements. See 42 U.S.C. § 7607(d)(7)(B). As EPA has also previously explained, EPA's intent has been to first publish a final rule on the related but separate CAA Best Available Retrofit Technology ("BART") requirements. EPA's notice of proposed rulemaking regarding the BART requirements was published in the Federal Register on January 4, 2017. 82 Fed. Reg. 912 (Jan. 4, 2017). EPA's BART final rule was published in the Federal Register on October 17, 2017. 82 Fed. Reg. 48,324 (Oct. 17, 2017).

3. EPA's BART final rule has been challenged in this court in Nat'l Parks Conservation Ass'n, et al. v. EPA, Case No. 17-60828 (5th Cir.). Those same petitioners have also filed an administrative petition with EPA requesting that EPA reconsider the BART final rule. This Court has held the proceedings in that case in abeyance pending the resolution of the petition for reconsideration and the completion of any reconsideration process of the BART final rule.

4. On April 30, 2018, EPA announced its intention to convene a new rulemaking proceeding to solicit public comment on certain aspects of the final rule. On August 27, 2018, EPA published a notice of proposed rulemaking proposing to affirm its October 17, 2017 BART final rule, and providing an opportunity for public comment on the proposal and other specified related issues. 83 Fed. Reg. 43,586 (Aug. 27, 2018). EPA held a public hearing in Austin, Texas, on the proposed rulemaking on September 26, 2018. The public comment period on the proposed action closed on October 26, 2018. EPA received approximately 1,500 comment letters and emails from citizens, environmental groups, industry and States. EPA has been reviewing comments in preparation to draft responses to the comments. EPA is continuing to brief management in the appropriate regional and headquarters offices to reach decisions on issues raised in the comments.

5. Accordingly, agency proceedings on remand are ongoing and this case should therefore remain in abeyance.

6. EPA's next status report is due to be filed on or before July 30, 2019.

Respectfully submitted,
